THE DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE

7 July 1976

Col. Barney Oldfield, USAF(Ret.)
Litton Industries
360 North Crescent Drive
Beverly Hills, California 90210

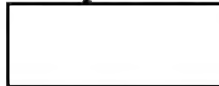

Dear Barney:

Thank you for your nice letter concerning my new appointment. I remember those days when we first met when I was holding Pat Carter's horse -- in those days when Pat was the DDCI, a job I now find myself in. Incidentally, Pat's son, Marshall Carter Junior, a Marine Corps Major and a war hero from Vietnam, wrote me a nice congratulatory note in which he thanked me for keeping the job "in the family."

It's easy to see from your letter that you remain as active and as creative as you have been over the years. If my travels bring me in and out of the vicinity of Los Angeles, I'll be sure to give a call. Feel free to do the same when you are visiting Washington.

All the best to you.

Faithfully yours,

E. H. Knoche
